RECHARGEABLE LIGHTS W/DROP IN CHARGER

INSTRUCTIONS

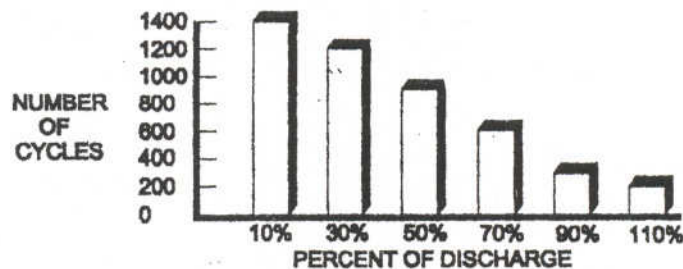

Before using, place light in charger so the pins on the light will match up with the pins on the charger. When the green LED light is glowing, the battery is fully charged. If the red light is glowing, the battery is being charged. (Red and green LED lights are located on the rechargeable light on the left-hand side of the handle.)

Your new SHO-ME® rechargeable light is protected by a charging regulator, therefore it cannot be overcharged. When not in use, leave light in the charger so it will always be charged.

The SHO-ME® rechargeable light should be mounted and charged with the bulb pointed up.

The battery can be recharged hundreds of times, depending on the depth of discharge. The battery is sealed lead-acid and requires no water.

NOTE: The battery used in your new SHO-ME® rechargeable light is a lead-acid battery. This is not a memory type battery and DOES NOT require being fully discharged. For prolonged battery life, always keep your rechargeable light in the charger and avoid running the light till the battery is completely dead.

Number of discharge cycles at various depths of discharge to reach 60% of original life.

Example: If the light is used until it is very dim before being recharged, 200-400 charge cycles may be expected. If the light is used for only 30-40 minutes each time before being recharged, 1000-1400 may be expected.
